We digitalise your future

logineer — your IT partner for international logistics

Faced with the challenge of guiding your logistics company into a successful future?

Then logineer is the perfect partner for your digitalisation project. As a subsidiary of the IT service provider q.beyond, we smarten up logistics specialists operating on the international stage. Our biggest plus for you: Our combination of IT know-how and long-term experience in logistics. We have extensive expertise in international sea and air freight as well as in contract logistics. Our 200 IT and logistics experts build your digital infrastructure, making sure that your data and information flow smoothly across borders and time zones.

Compelling reasons for selecting logineer as your logistics IT service provider:

- IT & logistics: You take care of your business and leave the IT to us, achieving greater efficiency and lower costs!
- End-to-End services: The range of services extends from strategy-based IT consulting, product and process-consulting to implementation, system integration and operation, including our own global 24/7 Help Desk. You get everything from a single source: cloud, IT infra-structure, Modern Workplace from Microsoft and all logistics applications.
- Maximum security: We offer the highest level of data security and data protection along with comprehensive solutions for your cyber security (eg. Vulnerability Mana-gement Service, EDR and Security Awareness Trainings).
- CargoWise service partner: As an expert for sea and air freight, we know the leading Transport Management System CargoWise and offer this core software including consulting services to logistics companies of all sizes.
- Contract logistics: We set up the appropriate ware-house management system and help you with the digital implementation of all processes around your warehousing. For more efficient contract logistics and as a good basis for e-commerce.
- On every continent: logineer takes care of your IT on a global scale, at both existing and new locations. We know all the international and national regulations for moving goods inside out.

We are the perfect partner for you ...

... if your head office is in Europe
